This is the tenth anniversary of Enfield's Shaker Singers, so called, organized in 1946 by Clarice Carr to keep alive, in song and story, the folk lore of the Shaker sect. The group, none of whom are Shakers, is well known in state and national folk music circles. In 1948 and 1950, they sang at the National Folk Festival in St. Louis, Mo.; in 1952 at the University of Pennsylvania; in 1953 at Dartmouth College; and, last summer, at Connecticut College. In addition to the members of the current group, identified in the accompanying picture, three others have participated — Mrs. Dorothy Sanborn, Mrs. Marjorie Hayes, Mrs. Bettina Spiller. In its presentations, the group is dedicated to helping to perpetuate a philosophy of life which still has meaning for our world.

Shaker missionaries established their first Enfield church in 1782 on what is still called Shaker Hill. In 1793, the community moved to the west shore of Mascoma Lake, where they maintained continuous life and activity until 1923. In the period of their greatest prosperity, the middle years of the last century, there were 350 Believers in the Enfield settlement. In 1928, the property was sold to LaSalette Seminary.

In keeping with their doctrine of separation from the world, the Shakers declined to vote and, with one exception, did not hold town office. Elder William Wilson "served acceptably" for three years as a member of the town school board. The expansion of Shaker industries, after the coming of the Northern Rail Road was an important factor in the development of North Enfield.

At this season of the year, when citizens are particularly mindful of tax rates and property valuations, a measure of our times can be found in a comparison with early town records. Former Elder Henry Cummings, writing for the Enfield Advocate in 1909, reviews the inventory of 1840. "The selectmen that year were George W. Fogg, William Huse, and N. S. Dustin. The number of polls were 325, and of this number 58 were in the Shaker Society and did not vote . . . . The property rate was 85 cents per $100, of which 21 cents was for highways. The three largest taxpayers were the three Shaker families."

Let us set some of the figures for 1840 against Enfield statistics for 1954.

Good advice for town meeting time is found in the Shaker "Manual of Good Manners," published in Canterbury, N. H., in 1844:

"Never dispute or argue with passion, nor speak your words harsh and loud, nor use unreasonable inconsiderate expressions, though you are never so confident of being in the right, and your opponents never so wrong, blind and unreasonable."

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN

Borrowers	Approximately 700

Circulation:

Adult fiction	2080
Adult non-fiction	1342
Juvenile fiction	2002
Juvenile non-fiction	345
Total	5769

The circulation of books increased slightly over that in 1954 and there has been a continued interest and use of the magazines for which the Library subscribes. Our summer visitors make good use of the Library facilities and in turn donate many excellent books to our collection. We are continually grateful to the Messrs. Thayer and Norris Nutter for their annual contributions of good books which this year included two beautifully colored books on Arizona and a subscription to "Arizona Highways," one of the most attractive of the state publicity magazines published.

This year, it has become necessary to replace the old card catalog which was purchased in 1932 and which held some 15,000 cards. With the completion of the typing of the backlog of cards for older books and cards for books purchased in 1955, the number of cards rose to 18,000. Since this is largely a working, not an historical library, we attempt by careful weeding of out-of-date and worn-out books to keep the total number to between 5,000 and 6,000. At an average of four cards to a book, this means the purchase of a card catalog capable of holding about 22,000 cards. An oak cabinet has been ordered, to be delivered in the early spring, which should be adequate in every way for at least another 25 years. The old cabinet will be used to house the collection of cemetery, tax and other card files belonging to the historical collection.

Mr. George McK. Roberts, to whom the town is deeply indebted for his research and compilation of the Enfield records, has recently presented us with two completed volumes: (1) a list of all the estates appearing in the Grafton County Probate records of individuals reported to be residents of the Town of Enfield at the time of their death, from the earliest records to the year 1950, with as complete identification of each name as possible; (2) a list of New Hampshire towns and counties and other civil divisions, showing their numerous changes in name and areas. Although he has recently moved to Hartford, Conn., he is still actively at work on the unified compilation of the Enfield vital, cemetery and genealogical records.

The Library owns a very fine case of mounted native birds which were given us many years ago by Miss Ida Cox. One of the things accomplished this year was only possible through the wonderful cooperation of the Canaan Bird and Garden Club. At one of their meetings in Enfield, they visited the Library and identified each bird in the case. Mrs. Louise Ring is preparing a chart listing these identifications, which will be framed and kept beside the case of birds. We are very grateful to the club for its help in this project.

Because of other necessary expenses, our book buying was more limited this year and the visits of the Bookmobile, with their generous loan of books, was appreciated even more than usual.

We wish to pay tribute to the many years of unselfish service given as library trustee by Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, who retired last year, and also to welcome Mrs. Mary K. Laffee as the newest member of the board.

The Library hours are as follows:

Monday and Thursday afternoons,	2:30 to 4:30
Tuesday evening	6:00 to 8:00
Saturday	2:00 to 8:00

Respectfully submitted,

Mrs. Nellie L. Pierce,

Librarian

Mr. Rufus Bruce, Health Officer
Enfield, N. H.

Dear Sir:

The following is a report of activities carried on in the Town of Enfield by the New Hampshire Department of Health, Bureau of Public Health Nursing, for the year of 1955.

In the months of May and October, the first and second grades were given the opportunity of attending the Salk Polio Clinic held at Canaan. Through the arrangements of the School District, children were transported by bus to these clinics. A large number of children took advantage. The clinics were sponsored by the National Polio Foundation and conducted by the N. H. Department of Health in cooperation with schools, school nurse, and local physician. Plans are now under way for clinics the last of March or early April for children ages 1 to 14, inclusive. My sincere thanks to all who helped in any way to make this program a success.

Home visits have been made in the town on mothers, babies and pre-school-age children. Arrangements have been made for children to attend clinics as necessary and follow-up visits made.

Respectfully submitted,

Lois W. Barton, R.N.
Public Health Nurse

N. H. Department of Health

HEALTH DEPARTMENT REPORT, 1955

27 investigations
16 water tests
5 communicable diseases

I'll take this time to ask the people to be more careful when they take their rubbish to the dump and throw a cover over it. This will avoid blowing papers, cartons, etc., from cluttering up the highway. When you dispose of your rubbish at the town dump, try to throw it over the bank, making it a lot easier for the old gentleman who takes care of the dump. His pay is not too big. He works for a little money, thus helping the taxpayer. All these little things you do to help out, help the taxpayer. Almost everyone who gets one of these Town Reports is a taxpayer.

The water tests for the year 1955 have been very good.

R. J. Bruce,

Health Officer

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of Enfield:

I present herein my second annual report as Superintendent of Schools in Enfield.

In preparing portions of this report I have made use of material that Mr. Jordan and the teachers prepared for me.

The School Building

The addition to the school building has proved to be a big help in improving the school program. The primary rooms have been an inspiration to both the teachers and the pupils. The combination gymnasium - cafeteria and the kitchen have improved the possibilities in physical education, athletics and assemblies, and have certainly provided a more comfortable and convenient place for preparing and serving the school lunch.

We are pleased to note, too, that ever increasing use is being made of the school facilities and particularly the gymnasium, by community organizations. This use is governed by a statement of rules and charges that was prepared by a committee made up of representatives of the School Board, the school staff and of the citizens of the community. Their objective in drawing up the rules and schedule of charges was to facilitate the use of the building, but at the same time, to protect the good name of the School District and Town and to insure them against added costs because of light. heat, damage and depreciation, and custodial service. The rates charged are as low as seem possible without added cost accruing to the School District. Further experience may indicate that the rates should be revised either upward or downward.

The community is aware that great difficulty was encountered by the Board in getting the building completed. The contractor was not getting the work done and was not paying his bills. It became necessary to take advantage of his performance bond and to put the matter in the hands of the surety company holding the bond. After a series of long meetings and continued hammering on the part of the Board and its legal representative, Mr. Fred Parker Carr, the work was finally done on September 27, 1955. The architect certified the building to be substantially complete, with the exception of certain minor items that have since been completed. The Board, therefore, accepted the building and made final payment on the contract.

In making the financial settlement, the Board insisted on certain damages because of delay in completion and other factors. At the time of final settlement, the total amount due the contractor was $19,267.47. The claims insisted upon by the Board and finally agreed to by the contractor and surety company were as follows:

Miscellaneous damages and expenses due to delay in completion of contract	$1,500.00
Cost of heat furnished the builder by the School District	1,200.00
Added cost for electricity furnished the contractor	165.00
Damages due to leak in roof	95.00
Faulty drawers in cabinets	100.00
On account of legal expenses	375.00
	$3,435.00

The final amount paid to the surety company acting for the contractor was, therefore, $19,267.47, less $3,435.00, or $15,832.47.

At the time of final settlement, the surety company representative and contractor agreed in writing to several things. One was as follows:

"Now therefore and in consideration thereof, the L. J. Raymond Company, Inc., and the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company jointly and severally represent and agree that there are no other legal claims on or against said $15,832.47. It is now agreed that in consideration of the School District paying to said United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company and delivering to said Walter J. Smith, the duly authorized representative of said Surety, certified check for said $15,832.47, that said L. J. Raymond Company, Inc., and the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company jointly and severally promise and agree to hold said School District of Enfield free and harmless from any and all claims made against it under said Lien Claims filed and to settle and pay all just claims for labor, merchandise, rent, hire or other things used or employed in the carrying out or the performance of the terms, conditions and provisions of said contract, plans and specifications or amendments or extensions thereof and will pay over to said obligee, the School District of the Town of Enfield, its successors or assigns, all loss or damage and any further damage, if any, it may suffer by reason of the alleged claims.

The United States Fidelity & Guaranty Company, Surety, agrees to enter by its attorneys and defend against all alleged claims under the contract that they are unable or unwilling to settle by negotiations directly with the claimants."

The contractor and surety also agreed to settle promptly all just bills against the contractor. At the time of the writing of this report, we are unable to state whether all such claims have been paid or not. Contractors did report to us for a considerable period after the time of the above agreement that they had not received their money. Enfield can in no way be held liable for the claims. The Board, nevertheless, deeply regrets that, on a project bearing the Enfield name, there should have been such long delay in making just payments.

The Board is distressed to find that, because of factors beyond its control, it is having to spend School Building funds for deficiencies found in the building. Some of them are as follows:

1. The outside door leading into the boiler room was so constructed that water poured through it during heavy rains or thaws. The alternatives that seemed to face the Board were drastic grading to take the water away from the door or alterations to the opening. The latter seemed to be the more feasible and economical. The Board, therefore, upon advice of a competent contractor, had the door shortened and a cement curb constructed that will hold out the water.

2. The heating plant, particularly in the old part of the building, does not work satisfactorily. Some rooms are too hot and some too cold, in spite of the thermostats. Excessive amounts of oil are being burned. The Board must take some action. Before taking any further steps, however, it wants to be as sure as possible that it does the right thing. It has, therefore, employed the services of a highly regarded heating engineer to advise it. His fee will be minimal. It now seems, however, that expenditures will have to be made to improve the system.

We are pleased to note that the shop boys, under the supervision of Mr. Karl Nyhus, shop instructor, have completed the project of enlarging the shop to include the old lunch room. This will make it possible to more nearly meet state requirements that will be discussed later.

The School Grounds

The grounds on the northeast side of the building have been graded and covered with gravel. This is the first step in providing a permanent, hard surface. Without such a surface, the grounds would soon be back to where they were. Funds are, therefore, included in the 1956-57 budget for the necessary work.

Fencing and posts have been purchased to erect along the southeast side of the playground. Mr. Nyhus and the shop boys have the posts and fencing ready for erection early in the spring.

Future Building Needs

In my last report, I mentioned further needed improvements in the building: Enlarged shop, shower and locker rooms, better nurse's room, and better home economics facilities. The 1955-56 budget included $500 to make a start on this work, particularly the shop and the shower rooms. As noted above, the shop enlargement has been completed, and at very little cost.

One shower has been installed in the boys' toilet room, in order to provide some relief and also as an experiment. Even the one shower has proved to be helpful, but, at the same time, has highlighted the need for shower and locker facilities for both girls and boys. Additional funds for this purpose have been included in the School Board's 1956-57 budget. It is hoped that these funds will be made available.

Enfield must face the fact that it can not continue for many more years to accommodate both its elementary and its high school grades in the present plant. A study of this matter, perhaps by a committee made up of Enfield citizens, and members of the School Board and school staff should be started in the near future. They should consider whether the answer should be another school building, paying tuition for high school pupils to another district, consolidation with other districts, or some other solution.

In this connection, I want to express appreciation to Mr. James Jordan, principal, for a school population study that he is making with the assistance of one or more of the commercial students. He is making the study in accordance with a formula that was recommended by the New England School Development Council and that is being used with good results throughout the country. It involves the compilation of considerable data and many calculations. Its results, however, can be regarded as about as sound as a population estimate can be.

Curriculum

Mathematics

A curriculum change was made this year to make it possible for students needing it to receive four years of college preparatory mathematics. That is, a student beginning his mathematics this year as a freshman can continue to get it during his entire four years.

Arithmetic

The elementary teachers are making a study of the arithmetic course of study and of arithmetic books. The present books are ready for replacement. In making the study, the teachers are reviewing the modern books from several publishers. It is hoped that a new series can be adopted for the next school year.

University of N. H. Testing

Each spring, Enfield sophomores participate in a testing program supervised by the University of New Hampshire. The tests are designed to measure scholastic aptitude and, also, reading ability as compared to that aptitude. Last spring, of the 91 schools tested, Enfield was one of the 12 to obtain the highest rating that is given.

Shop

Last summer, we had difficulty in getting approval from the State Department of Education for the shop program. The principal reason was that we were offering, and were equipped to offer, only woodworking for Grades 7 through 12. The department felt, and with justification, that six years of woodworking makes too thin a program, particularly for the boys in Grades 11 and 12.

A representative of the department made a thorough study of our program, our equipment and of our shop space. We were given approval for the school year 1955 - 56 only for the following program.

Grades 7 and 8 —	Woodworking
Grades 9 and 10 —	Cabinet making
Grades 11 and 12 —	Building construction

The building construction work was to start immediately by removal of a portion of the brick wall between the school shop and the old lunch room, in order that the latter could become a part of the shop. As noted earlier, this work has been done.

In addition, if we are to have approval for shop for Grades 11 and 12 for another year, we must offer an enriched program, including some metal work, and have the necessary machine tools and other equipment for such a program. Obviously, a good shop program for Grades 11 and 12 is important. More boys would enroll in it if they felt that they could get something other than woodworking for six years. We have, therefore, included funds in the 1956-57 budget for some of the equipment that is necessary to a more varied program.

Remedial Reading

The remedial reading work under Mrs. Goodwin continues to pay dividends. At present, about 40 children are receiving help and are showing improvement. This work makes possible greater individual attention than can be given in the regular class room. Furthermore, it frees the regular class room teacher for more attention to the other pupils. The most important thing, of course, is that it gives greater assurance that children with reading difficulties will be improved in that basic skill before all of their school work is adversely affected.

I am glad to report that seven teachers have taken professional improvement courses during the year. Some took more than one, so that a total of 15 courses were taken.

Graduates

Of the 1955 graduates, three are attending the University of New Hampshire and one is in Plymouth Teachers College. One has qualified to become one of the ten who are eligible to take the examination for the new Air Force Academy. Four of the boys are in the armed services.

Teachers and Salaries

Of the fifteen members of the regular staff, seven, or almost fifty percent, are new this year. Obviously no school, or any other business, can work with the desired degree of effectiveness with such a rate of turnover.

We were fortunate to fill the vacancies. In fact, it was largely luck, circumstances and a lot of seeking that enabled us to do so. We sent letters telling of our vacancies to over forty agencies, State Department placement bureaus and the placement offices of teachers' colleges and universities. Many of them, including the Keene and Plymouth Teachers' Colleges, replied that they had no candidates who were interested in the salaries that Enfield pays. Many other types of inquiries brought similar results.

We are lucky in the teachers that we obtained. They are doing a good job. We are lucky, too, that some of them had gotten their certificates in the past, for under the present requirement of a degree for certification we could have gotten them certified, if at all, only on an emergency basis. Fortunately, too, they live in the Enfield area and wanted positions.

We became fearful in the summer that we could not continue to offer shop and home economics, for we had not been able to find teachers. It was not until in August that we succeeded in securing them.

The School Board recognized the acute shortage of teachers, the fact that teachers' salaries are going up everywhere, and that we can not always depend on luck and circumstances. We must be in a position to pay salaries that will attract and retain teachers. The Board, therefore, acting with the teachers, formed a salary study committee made up of two Board members and two representatives of the teachers. The committee made as thorough a study of the salary situation as time permitted. It also conferred with Enfield citizens. One thing became quite apparent, namely that the beginning salary would have to be at least $3000. Other salaries should, of course, be advanced accordingly. The committee's report, when submitted, was approved by the Board and the necessary allowance made in the 1956-57 budget.

The essentials of the report are as follows:

1. Raise the minimum salary from $2600 to $3000.
2. Raise the other steps in the salary schedule proportionately, but, because of the cost, not to attempt to do it all in one year.

For the first year of operation, that is 1956-57, a beginning teacher will get $3000. It was felt that all teachers now on the staff who are not getting that amount should be raised so that they would get $3100, or $100 more than a beginner. This resulted in raises of varying amounts for several of the teachers. All other full time teachers are to receive an increase of $150.

Funds to carry out these recommendations are included in the 1956-57 budget. I sincerely hope that the School District Meeting will vote to support this step in the right direction.

Conclusion

In concluding, I want to express sincere appreciation for the continued support and help from the School Board, the school staff and the people of Enfield.

Respectfully submitted,

Arthur E. Pierce,

Superintendent of Schools
